

Park Use of 10,000 EBMUD Acres Is Sought

By NORMAN COLBY

The County Board of Supervisors in about two weeks will receive staff plans and recommendations for a possible joint development of recreation of some 10,000 acres of East Bay Municipal Utility District lands in the planned San Pablo Dam-Briones-Rodeo watershed areas, only a few miles from the central county area.

If realized, this would bring a vast hiking, boating and picnicking area within easy driving distance for area outdoor lovers.

But even eventual approval by the supervisors would be only half of it. A joint agreement with the district, perhaps an election among district voters, would be necessary.

THE PLANS WERE requested Tuesday by Mel Nielsen during a regular meeting.

They would involve all EBMUD public lands now labeled for water supply purposes, and would include much more than the 1400 acre Briones Park area, which is being purchased by the county.

Instructions have also gone to offices of the county administrator, county district attorney and public works director to review the present contract with EBMUD. By it the county is obtaining, one at a time, parcels of Briones Park, some distance east of the proposed Briones Reservoir.

The thought is that the old agreement may be cast aside. And the $210,000 already paid for the park be instead used to finance a new agreement by which all EBMUD land for water purposes may become available to the public for boating, picnicking and fishing, but no activity involving bodily contact with the water.

IT IS BELIEVED that the water district may voluntarily allocate its land for such purposes, or a public election might bring the same result.

The supervisory directive followed receipt of a letter from Robert Kahn, president of the Happy Valley Association and member of the citizens study committee headed by James Moriarty.

Kahn has been one of the leaders in the Happy Valley-Sleepy Hollow fight to eliminate the proposed Black Hills Road as the replacement for Bear Creek Road.

Bear Creek Road is at the bottom of the proposed Briones Reservoir, and belongs to the county. EBMUD has offered to pay for replacing it, once a new route is decided upon, and contingent upon reasonable cost. An "unreasonable" cost might require chipping-in by the county.

EBMUD, BACKED BY several outside opinions, has strongly backed the choice of Black Hills Road.

The Citizens Committee, organized on suggestion of Nielsen after objections to suggested route were heard, has declared that the Black Hills Road, which runs south and east of the future Briones Reservoir, will be detrimental to their homes, the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association, its pool and facilities. They also say the proposed road makes no sense at all from the standpoint of future parks in the area.

Many letters have been written by Kahn, C. L. Blue, president of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association, and W. D. Leonard, president of the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association.

They claim that the estimated $4½ millions road construction cost will go for a road which is entirely unrelated to the area's best future park system.

THE COUNTY STAFF has about two weeks to come up with its tentative renegotiation proposals for supervisors' review.

But before that, on Tuesday, the supervisors are scheduled to all the statistical facts concerning the two alternative routes, and make a final decision on whether to pick the Black Hills Road, a generally east-west road running 6.4 miles along the southern edge of the proposed reservoir, or "C" route, which also runs from the base of the future dam, but goes north some 7.3 miles east of the San Pablo Reservoir area.

Nielsen told The Sun that it appears that the supervisors have nothing remains for the Tuesday decision but the decision.

"As it stands, there is still an added cost of $1½ million for the "C" road, and the problem of slides which no matter what they say, exist and are a problem," he said.

NIELSEN CONTINUED, "But it can be argued that the "C" road will be needed later on, anyway, for access to Pinole Valley when it is redeveloped for residential purposes. And if that's true Black Hills Road may become just a cow path between the San Pablo Dam reservoir and the eastern section."

Nielsen admitted that a decision Tuesday favoring Black Hills Road, running east towards Briones Park, and valid plans submitted in two weeks for developing the entire EBMUD water supply lands, might leave the supervisors again in a quandary.

This is because it is possible that "C" road would provide the access from the west for picnickers, hikers and boaters, for the new park lands to the north and east of the San Pablo Dam Reservoir.

This is just the sort of road which would be needed if the conversion of the dest of the EBMUD water supply lands for recreation comes to pass, he admitted.

THE LOCAL RESIDENTS' efforts to shift county authorities' interest from Black Hills Road alone to the road and its relation to the future park development, and what they believe it should be, have been going for months.

Their citizens committee was and is unhappy with the road location, since they feel it endangers their own property values.

But their resulting investigations inevitably led to Briones Park, purchased from EBMUD by the county, and dissatisfaction with the terms of the sale.

They think the county got a bum deal, that the park is in the wrong place, and the park's recreational development itself is too far in the future, and possible only after a bond issue in addition to park purchase price.

THEY HAVE CRITICIZED the "restrictions" put on the park sale, claim that it amounts to "no sale" at all. But EBMUD people have an answer for this. (See separate story.)

Kahn's letter, dated January 22, contained another little bombshell.

Rumors have been flying for weeks in the Lafayette area concerning EBMUD ethics involving its support of the Black Hills Road route, and the fact that the route touches the Lindsay property, some 350 acres, located east of Sleepy Hollow and just south of the future reservoir.

Arguments, Opinions Are Formidable on Both Sides

A formidable array of authorities and arguments have been amassed by both sides in the controversy over whether Bear Creek Road's replacement should be the north-south "C" route, west of Briones Reservoir, or Black Hills Road, which would run east-west, along the reservoir's southern edge.

Arguments for Black Hills have become so formidable that Supervisor Mel Nielsen has said "I'm just a soul in the woods," referring to his support of "C" route, in discussion with fellow supervisors.

Nielsen has gotten into verbal hassles from time to time with Vic Sauer, county public works director, over Nielsen's feeling that objective facts and figures have not been presented.

SAUER, has preferred Black Hills Road, and advances the cost and engineering problems of "C" route as arguments.

His latest figures indicate that Black Hills would run 6.4 miles, and cost $3,688,000, while "C" route would run 7.3 miles and cost $5,551,000.

Massive slide area would raise the cost of the "C" route, and make it impractical, said Sauer.

Nielsen has been brought almost to agreement, at this time, while others argue that Sauer has deliberately made "C" route longer than necessary to up its price, and that his comparisons are changing week by week, each time more strongly favoring the Black Hills Route.

SAUER'S side has been taken by the County Planning Commission, county engineer consultants EBMUD engineer Joe DeCosta, and recommendation of the Tudor Report also favor him.

Robert Kahn, Happy Valley Association president, has referred to an Army Engineers report, a Stanford University report, and the County Master Plan, in saying park land should be developed to the north, and as a result, "C" route should be built, leading from the west into that area.

Kahn told The Sun that Stanford submitted a confidential report to EBMUD which goes into the matter of opening up more of its land for park purposes, and quotes the report as saying "... It is the obligation of a public agency to act in the best interests of the public."

Kahn said the Stanford report, which has not been released generally, also said the EBMUD may enter the recreation phase "voluntarily" or when the public votes to that effect.

'Restrictions' Are Normal, Says Co.

The restrictions placed on the sale of Briones Park 1400 acres to Contra Costa County are exactly those which have been attached to the East Bay Municipal District's sale of land to the East Bay Regional Park District, and there have been no complaints there.

This was the comment of Charles Wilmarth, director of EBMUD customer relations, in an interview with The Sun concerning residents' objections.

Wilmarth said the district has sold some 9000 acres to the larger district in past years.

RESIDENTS of Happy Valley and Sleepy Hollow have objected that the sale of the Briones Park land for $385 per acre, on the basis that an adjacent piece of land was sold by a private party, Duncan, to another party for only $20 per acre.

In addition, objectors say, the sale of the adjacent land was without strings or limitations.

Wilmarth commented that at the time the county seemed quite satisfied with the price, and the restrictions are normal under the circumstances, assuming that the county plans to use the land for parks and recreation "in perpetuity."

The terms of the sale contract specified that about one tenth of the park's 1400 acres be bought by the county each year, and interest be paid on the parcels not yet purchased.

THE COMPLETE purchase would take 10 years.

Another objection voiced was that the location of the park area is too remote from the Briones reservoir, and another 640 acres will have to be purchased in addition, to bring the park to the water's edge.

The purchase was made, according to Kahn, when the reservoir plans had it touching the Briones Park area, and the reservoir was moved away in subsequent plans.

Main objections to the sale of the Briones Park have been that it has actually been "no sale" at all, since EBMUD retains so many rights, including one half of all mineral rights, right to construct telephone, telegraph, electrical lines, storm or sanitary sewers.

ALSO right to construct for erosion control, to use the land for access to other EBMUD land, reserving all riparian or other water rights, except that actually used by the county, the right to repurchase at the same price if the county wishes to resell the land.

Other rights are mentioned.

Full House Seen for Sun, St. Mary's Game Tomorrow

There will be a happy, enthusiastic crowd at The Sun-St. Mary's Father-Youngster Basketball night tomorrow night at 8 p.m. when the Gaels take on Cal Poly.

At least, the crowd will be enthusiastic if the advance sign-up is any indication.

AS OF WEDNESDAY afternoon, 385 advance reservations had been made, which is pretty close to a full house.

Any of you who still wish to attend, and who did not fill out the coupon which has appeared in The Sun for the past four weeks, may still be able to get a seat.

Seats in the special section will be reserved for coupon holders until 15 minutes before game time. After that, any of you may take advantage of the special offer as long as seats remain.

THE SPECIAL EVENT, co-sponsored by St. Mary's and The Sun, offers any adult the opportunity to bring as many youngsters to the game as he wishes, all for the price of $1.

And St. Mary's has set aside a special section for the adults and their young rooters.

Excitement should run high, as Cal Poly knocked off powerful USF earlier this week, and the Gaels are in their usual good form.

AAUW Will Sponsor Four Dramateur Nights

The Orinda branch of the American Association of University Women will sponsor four performances of "Visit to a Small Planet," the Dramateur's newest production, on February 3, 4, 10, and 11, 8:30 p.m., at the Lafayette Town Hall.

This annual fund-raising event supports the Orinda branch's share of the American Association of University Women Fellowship Fund.

One of the purposes of AAUW is to provide fellowships and grants to women scholars studying at a graduate level. Last year the fund amounted to $236,500.00. This sum made possible 84 awards for the year 1960-61.

Forty-seven U.S. citizens received funds to study here or abroad. Five international fellowships were awarded for study in any country, and 32 international grants enabled foreign women to study in the United States. An endowment financed by AAUW supports 40 per cent of this program, the remainder must be obtained from current contributions from branches.

All proceeds from the Orinda branch sponsorship of "Visit to a Small Planet" will be donated to the AAUW fellowship fund. Tickets for all four nights, at $2 each, may be obtained from Mrs. David Solberg, 20 Eastwood Drive, Orinda, DRake 6-4218.

The regular meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Orinda County Fire Protection District originally scheduled for yesterday, will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Station No. 1.

After the Commissioners have conducted their business meeting they will make an inspection tour of the three fire stations in the district.

Sheriff's Office Notes Big Drop in Burglaries

The Lafayette Sheriff's Sub Station reported only three burglaries in the last seven-day period.

The figure represents a sharp decrease in the number of burglaries committed in similar seven-day periods during the last month.

In addition to the three actual burglaries, there were two thefts, one attempted burglary and one attempted car theft reported.

The biggest single burglary took place at a mower repair shop operated by George Kabata of Concord.

The shop, located in a warehouse at 4011 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, was broken into last Sunday and a number of mowers parts taken.

Clarence Parkham said that a kitchen screen had been torn and the window forced to gain admittance. His son's pump gun was all he could find missing.

Steven Rye, 1441 Laurencia, Alamo, told Sheriff's Deputies that someone had entered the family garage last Saturday night or Sunday morning and taken some auto parts from the motor of his sports car.

The Sheriff's Office also reported that someone tried to enter the Pederson Electronics building at 3667 Mt. Diablo Blvd. A rear door was damaged, but entrance could not be made, they said.

A car owned by John F. Philip of 1072 Grayson Road, Lafayette, was taken from the front of his house, but it was run into a ditch a short distance down the street. A tow truck was needed to get the car back on the road.

Variety Motors of Pleasant Hill reported that someone had removed two rear tires from a car on their used car lot last Monday night.

John Jawad of 1850 Second, Walnut Creek, told Sheriff's Deputies that a two-wheel trailer with a portable water tank attached had been taken from his property last week-end. The tank was used to water his cattle. A fence had been cut to enter the property.

Despite the decline of burglary activity in the last week, deputies were kept busy keeping the peace in the area.

Mother's (Dads) March!

Ten thousand Contra Costa women will join the Mother's March for the 1961 New March of Dimes, Tuesday evening, according to Mrs. Ruth Wrench and Mrs. Alta Velikonja, county co-chairmen.

"The march will be held without fail even if weather conditions are bad," said Mrs. Wrench.

"Symbol of the Mothers' March is a key — the New March of Dimes 'Key to the prevention of crippling diseases,'" she added.

THIS WILL be one of the biggest drives in county history. Marchers will attempt to reverse the falling income of the past four years which have seen total revenue to support the local chapter drop from $128,810 in 1956 to only $70,134 last year," Mrs. Wrench continued.

Central county mothers march chairmen are as follows: Mrs. F. L. Andreen, Pleasant Hill area; Mrs. John McCorkle, Walnut Creek area; Mrs. Margaret Mattei, Lafayette.

Elmer Anderson, Orinda; Al Baitx, Rheem-Moraga. These have been termed "Fathers' March, since the dads will make the rounds."

"So many people have the mistaken belief that the discovery of the Salk vaccine solved the whole problem," Mrs. Wrench said. "In fact, it has simply been a help along the way."

"WE ARE still caring for 360 county people who were stricken with polio before the vaccine was introduced," she said, "and additional cases are still occurring due to the fact that some 18,000-20,000 Americans remain unvaccinated."

"In addition," Mrs. Wrench said, "the New March of Dimes research program has been expanded to cover research into finding the solutions to birth defects and crippling arthritis."

Several 1961 March of Dimes special activities are planned, according to Joseph De Rosa, county chairman.

Teens have been taking part in balloon and lapel pin sales, cake sales, an old-fashioned box social, athletic events and dances in an attempt to beat a similar group of youngsters in Palm Beach County, Florida, who are pledged to raise $7000.

IN PLEASANT Hill the faculty of Pleasant Hill High School played the students in basketball games yesterday and will play today at 1 p.m.

The same area tomorrow will feature the Pleasant Hill Folk Dancers at College Park High School.

Also tomorrow at Walnut Creek city park Bimbo's "Holiday in Rio" showgirls from San Francisco will play the Walnut Creek Optimists in a baseball game scheduled for 3 p.m.

Members of the Junior Optimists will pass the March of Dimes containers for donations.

Is District Stand Fulfilling Promise To Lindsay Group?

Is East Bay Municipal Utility District plumping for relocating the Bear Creek Road along the Black Hills Route to satisfy an old informal agreement connected with its sale of some 356 acres to Claude Lindsay and associates in 1959?

This was hinted by Robert Kahn, president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association, in a letter to the board of supervisors this week.

The intimation is that in the contract, or at the time of its signing, EBMUD made the deal more lucrative for the purchasers by promising that an access road would be built to the edge of their proposed development.

THE LINDSAY property was sold by EBMUD for $485,000, according to Charles Wilmarth, director of EBMUD customer relations.

Was such an agreement in the contract? Was there a "gentleman's agreement"?

Absolutely not, said Wilmarth. He said, "The district does not make side deals, and we do not make separate oral agreements. All are spelled out in recorded deeds."

ASKED by The Sun if there is anything in the contract of sale itself pertaining to Black Hills Road, Wilmarth paraphrased a portion of the contract which does in fact mention the road.

The paraphrasing indicates that the district believed only that Black Hills Road was one of the alternatives, and it wished to insure a right-of-way through the Lindsay property would be guaranteed, with the sale.

If the Black Hills Route were not picked, then the right-of-way land would revert to Lindsay and his associates.

The paraphrasing: "... IN THE deed to Claude Lindsay conveying property ... the statement was made that the utility district will build Briones Dam which will include the necessity of relocating Bear Creek Road."

"... there is the possibility that the county which will have the responsibility of selecting the route of the relocated road may choose one called the Black Hills route, in which event the buyer agrees to grant to the county without charge a strip of land through the property of sufficient dimensions to meet county requirements for such road."

"... If the county finds that no portion of this property is needed for the route chosen by the county for the alternative road, the district agrees to release Claude T. Lindsay from this obligation."

Recreational Use of EBMUD Land Proposed

In his letter, Kahn asks the supervisors: "ARE YOU AWARE that there is a property identified on maps as the Lindsay property, purchased in the past few years from East Bay Municipal Utility District.

"This property, which by rumor is held for subdivision, substantiated by public announcements of a country club and residential development, would be nicely served by the Black Hills Road.

"Are you also aware of the rumors in the real estate field and elsewhere that as part of the Lindsay property sale, that EBMUD agreed to provide a road access to the upper end of this property?

"This may be nothing more than a rumor, but it should be pointed out that Black Hills Road would be particularly advantageous as access to the Lindsay property, and, if true, might support the interest of EBMUD in Black Hills Route."

CHARLES WILMARTH, EBMUD director of customer relations, offered an answer for this.

He reviewed for The Sun the sale by EBMUD of the Lindsay purchase, and paraphrased the agreement which pertains to Black Hills Road. (See separate story.)

A problem among many problems is that EBMUD has already closed the old Bear Creek Road and is anxious to reach an agreement by which it will itself pay for the relocation of the road.

Work has begun. Some county residents have lost this access to their properties.

SINCE THE OLD road is at the bottom of the proposed Briones reservoir, and until EBMUD can reach an agreement with the county for its replacement (at lowest cost) the county holds a whip hand.

EBMUD wants to have the route determined, also the cost, and agree to pay it.

The dam work depends on the road agreement.

And the nearby resident want the road agreement to depend on the future park plans for the Briones Reservoir area.

KAHN, IN AN earlier letter to Nielsen, suggested that deliberation over park development and a future joint agreement for same may take a long time.

To avoid making EBMUD wait, he suggested the following:

Reconvey all title in the Briones Park lands purchased by the county back to EBMUD, but allow EBMUD to keep the $210,000 already paid by the county as "consideration" for a bigger agreement.

The bigger agreement would be a joint plan where the county, instead of getting ownership of 1400 acres, would get a "right" to develop ALL district lands now reserved for water purposes in the vicinity.

THIS MEANS SOME 10,000 acres in the San Pablo-Briones-Rodeo watersheds could be reserved and developed for recreation.

Such would require much future negotiation with EBMUD officials. Whether they would be agreeable is a question. Kahn claims he has backing for his proposal, even including a "confidential" report to EBMUD by Stanford University. See separate story.)

But what about the delay on deciding the replacement route for Bear Creek Road?

Kahn has received an opinion by District Attorney John Nejedly which generally indicates that all such new negotiations are possible, and also that the value of the replacement road can be determined, without designating the actual road itself.

KAHN SUGGESTS THAT the sum of money be determined, and that it be placed in "escrow" or on deposit for the later use of the county, and this agreement also terminate the county's rights to Bear Creek Road.

Then EBMUD would be free to proceed with the dam completion.

The proposal also gives EBMUD prior rights over the land in developing water supply, and restrictions would insure the protection of a pure water supply.

Kahn also proposes that standards for the new road be reduced from a 50 mph specifications, with eight per cent maximum grade, to 35 mph and modification of grade limitation.

THIS WOULD SAVE EBMUD from $1 million to $2 million, he said. He advanced arguments why the 35 mph road would be better for an access road into a park area.

He added that lands declared "surplus" for both water supply and recreation purposes would be disposed of by EBMUD as the company desires.

If there were any question about EBMUD directors' authority to do this, a similar agreement might be developed with Alameda County, and both agreements could be submitted to the district voters.

It has been understood that whichever is chosen, "C" route or Black Hills Road, the traffic circulation in the reservoir area will be completed by construction of another road, "B" route, which runs northwesterly of the reservoir, joining Black Hills route on the south, or approaching "C" route on the west.

THE SUPERVISORS EARLIER were asked to make a study of a proposed Charles Hill route, which would run north into the area from the Charles Hill interchange, shortening the distance for drivers coming from the central county.

But there is no money available for the $13,500 study, supervisors have announced.

Kahn has argued that access into the Briones Park area should avoid a long trip around for weekend drivers coming from the east, and they will leave the park area via the Upper Happy Valley Road and Happy Valley Road, putting a big burden on a narrow road.

Arguments, Opinions Are Formidable on Both Sides

HE ADDED that EBMUD is a public taxing district, and is therefore not considered as private an institution as the phone company, although the latter is regulated as a public utility.

Kahn also has copies of an opinion by District Attorney John Nejedly indicating that renegotiation of Briones Park is possible legally, and the cost of relocating Bear Creek Road could be put in "escrow", making delay of the road decision possible, without delaying EBMUD construction of the new dam and reservoir.

The report of D. Jackson Faustman, consulting traffic engineer, has been referred to by both sides.

Kahn mentions that Faustman predicts that there will be little weekday traffic to the Briones Park, but recreation trips may run up to 9200 on Sunday, and roads to the west are not good enough for central county residents.

TRAFFIC will be too heavy for Happy Valley Road, says the report.

Kahn argues for a southerly road in the vicinity of Happy Valley Road, and that Black Hills Road will then be useless, he says.

Then there is the report of Burton Marliave, geologist, which Kahn points out has emphasis on improvement of Happy Valley Road, relocation or its replacement.

The report outlines shortcomings of the Black Hills route, Kahn says.

THE TUDOR report, which favors Black Hills Road, is used by both sides.

One side says the conclusion came from Tudor; the other that Sauer provided Tudor with specific alternatives, drawn up according to Sauer's specifications, and the consulting firm was confined to these in deliberations.

A big gun in the list of authorities is Duane (Doc) Mattison, head of the County Park Department, who was hired after the purchase of Briones Park.

Mattison has come out against the "C" route west of the reservoir, saying it would not fit into county plans for park development.

MATTISON has said that the "C" route would not connect the Briones area with the park area west of San Pablo Reservoir, and would be of no use.

Area residents are saying that Mattison has changed his mind, and they believe that he may have done so to obtain some concessions from EBMUD which would also be in the best interests of park and recreation development within the EBMUD boundaries.

Committee Explains Use of Acalanes Bond Monies

The planned use of the $3.9 million in building funds and the $750,000 for site acquisition requested by the Acalanes High School District in the school bond election on February 14 is needed for the following reasons, according to the Citizens Committee for passage of the bond issue.

Continuing the building program of the district based on the policy of providing housing for youngsters as they reach high school age and not to build beyond immediate needs, board members and administrators are faced with these present needs:

1. TO COMPLETE Del Valle High School in Walnut Creek to provide facilities for the 1,300 students for which it was designed, and who will be attending it within the next two years.

2. To make additions to Acalanes, Las Lomas, and Miramonte High Schools as their enrollment and educational programs require.

3. To build a complete new high school for 1,350 students on the existing site near Rheem Center required by increasing population in this area.

"These are building requirements that can be predicted from enrollments of children presently attending elementary schools in the area and who will be attending high school within the next five years," Superintendent Neil M. Parsons pointed out. There will be 2,000 more of these children than the number presently enrolled. Each year 400 additional pupils will be enrolled and classrooms and laboratories for them must be built."

BASED ON predictions of continued future growth in this part of Contra Costa County made by a team of educational experts from Stanford University, the Acalanes District is looking ahead to the time when present grazing and agricultural areas will be developed for residential construction.

This will require more high schools, and sites for them should be purchased before the value of this land has greatly appreciated.

It is for this reason that the high school district is asking authority to borrow $750,000 from the State of California. This money will be used to purchase sites as their location is recommended by the Stanford researchers and while suitable plots are still available.

IT HAS BEEN the experience of the district in the past that each school site purchased has cost more than the one previous. In addition, as level land has become more scarce, grading costs for each site have also risen.

It is to avoid a great portion of these increased costs that this measure is included on the ballot. ing high school age, wise expenditure of funds in the past, and a forward-looking plan for school building in the future argue for member William Lee recently de-approval of the high school bond clared.

All Nighter Committees Are Formed; Plans Made

By CAROL PEDERSEN & SUSAN COX
The gears are in motion and the plans for the anticipated Senior All Night are being arranged with great enthusiasm. The committee of hard working parents and students is headed by Mr. & Mrs. Howard, Bruce Howard's parents and they started plans for the All Night on January 18. For each adult committee concerned with arrangements there is one senior representative.

There are 10 committees and the senior representatives are as follows: Bill Caldwell, counterpart of the chairman; Carol Harmon publicity; Ann Blow, decorations; Lynn Bickerstaff, food; Tina Cole, entertainment; Walt Altorfer, chaperones; Kathy Stafford, location; Bardon Wilmar, games; Bob Welch, telephone-transportation; Mary Moorehead, location.

THE AFFAIR is to be held at Jack London Square in the Jack London Hall on June 15.

All seniors are urged to help with plans by taking home the fliers that will be handed out to you in American Problems so that your parents can be informed of the progress being made on the arrangements concerning the All Night.

Last Friday night the Matadors surged onward and captured another victory for Miramonte placing them in first place with a 5-0 record for league play.

Saturday the Matadors' Mason Fries, Vic Clark, and Keith Thraikill ran off with two thirds and a second respectively at the Hayward Invitational Wrestling Meet. The Matadors beat Acalanes point-wise but top honors were taken by Hayward first and Pleasant Hills second.

ALSO ON Friday night Cathie Prince gave a going away party for Holly O'Hara who is leaving for Los Angeles in a week or so. Holly was quite surprised when she realized what was happening and could only say "Oh you guys!" and act just as happy and surprised as we all hoped she would, because after all it was a surprise party!

Some of those who helped wish Holly Bon Voyage were: Linda Barges and Corbett Kroll, Pam Dermit and Rick Layne, Marilyn Brown and Bill Carroll, Cathie Prince and George Merriman, Kathy Baldwin and Dick Henry. The party was a big success and the gay participants danced to the music of Ray Charles and Tommy Edwards and they nibbled on pizza, potato chips, cake and coke between dances.

THE BOBBIES held a slumber party Friday night at Glenna Clark's house. The girls spent a sleepless night as girls will when they get together for the night, especially when there's almost thirty of them. They got up bright and early and went to Farley's for breakfast.

After breakfast some went bowling while others went to work or home to catch up on much needed sleep. Glenna Clark, Sue Kronke, Joan Eberhart, Carolyn Coburn, Karen Voll, Pat Finn, Bonnie Henning, Mimi Case, Linda Barges and Cinda Snell were a few of the slumberers.

ANOTHER surprise party was held Friday for Roger Howard who is going to New Mexico to attend a Military Academy. The well wishers said good-bye with an authentic Chinese dinner complete with chopsticks. Janice Fowler and John Cooper, Nancy Henry and Gary Holtwick, Pat Finn and Roger Howard, Pat Canfield and Vol Howard, and Marc Jacobs and Skip Spach were among those saying fond farewells.

Saturday night Celeste Smith held a party for about 40 exuberant members of the up-and-coming freshman class. A wonderful time was had by all, I hear. While the frosh were partying Dick Miller & Wendy Wilcox, Rollen Mack and Karen Rigor were ice skating and enjoying the thrills and spills (eh Dick?) of this cold and vigorous sport.

Karen Weatherbe & Bill Kent, Barb Syverud & Gary Bislak engaged in a warmer, but just as exciting an evening when they went roller skating. I bet roller skating is just as full of spills as ice skating isn't it gang?

WELL, LAST Tuesday marked the beginning of the most dreaded time of the school year, finals. With two, 2-hour finals Wed., Thurs., and Fri. everyone will be ready to spend a carefree weekend of fun and adventure. Especially the Seniors who leave tomorrow for Sugar Bowl to spend the day enjoying their first real senior activity of the year. There will be three bus loads of skiers leaving Orinda about 5 a.m. ready, willing, but in some cases not so able.

GOOD LUCK TO ALL!!!

Modern Painting Program To Open

Personal appreciation of painting by Cubists, Abstractionists, Surrealists and other modern schools should be based upon an understanding of the artist's aim, as well as the critic's judgment. A handsomely designed book containing color plates, black and white drawings, and a specially prepared commentary, plus a collection of slides, will provide the basis for the program's 10 discussion sessions.

The program, which in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth LaBoiteau, 1 La Chesnaye, Orinda, offers participants a chance to explore and evaluate modern artists and their critics.

Fee for the program, which includes one set of reading materials, is $14 (individual); $20 (married couple).

First County Wide Group Work Institute Is Held

The first County Wide Group Work and Recreation Institute, sponsored by the Community Welfare Council drew more than 100 representatives from volunteer and public agencies to the all day sessions held at Diablo Valley College on Saturday.

Miss Gladys Synder, keynote speaker, stressed the need for advanced, long range planning and coordination in acquiring facilities for leisure time use. Miss Snyder is a Recreation Specialist, Division of Recreation, Department of Natural Resources, State of California.

WORKSHOP discussions were grouped according to east, west and central Contra Costa County, with each discussion group including both professional and lay readers from all types of volunteer and public agencies.

Section leaders for Central Contra Costa County were Byron Cross, Contra Costa County Schools; Charles Toll, acting Superintendent, Moraga School District and David Jones, Walnut Creek Park and Recreation Commission. Recorders for this section were Elmo Giulieri, Principal, Parkmead Upper Grade School; Bob Durand, Chairman, Walnut Creek Park and Recreation Commission and Bill Ross, Principal, Del Valle High School.

A RESOLUTION adopted by gathering as a whole, urged that all agencies support the recently approved County general park plan and further urged that action be taken to put it into effect financially as soon as it is feasible possible.

It was recommended that the office of the County Park Director, Duane Mattison, be used as a clearing house regarding plans for future sites and developments in order that plans can be coordinated.

Better communications between agencies, a full scale public relations program and better use of schools and adjacent park sites were also recommended.

Walnut Creek Man's Car Runs on Water . . . Almost!

By EDITH BRADY
Ever dream of a car that runs on water? . . .

Well, Bernard Becker's classic Doble Steamer does . . . almost. Becker's Doble, an Oxford maroon roadster convertible, runs by steam pressure from a boiler under the hood. The boiler has a 17 gallon water capacity. Pressure builds up to about 1500 pounds. Becker said that he gets about "300 miles to every 10 gallons of water."

OF COURSE he has to use fuel, too. The Doble's tank holds 27 gallons of diesel fuel. Becker, who lives at 3241 Rogers Avenue, Walnut Creek, bought the steamer in 1943 from his boss at Besler in Emeryville, where Becker is laboratory superintendent.

THE STEAMER'S body is all aluminum. It was handmade by Murphy Bodies in Pasadena in 1923, and then modified in 1931. Becker said that the cost of operating his Doble is "about the same as an ordinary car." But parts are difficult to come by. "You practically have to make them yourself," he said. But as long as he has had the car he hasn't had any major mechanical problem.

THE DOBLE has one big advantage over the ordinary car . . . it has no gear shift. All you do to get more power is open the throttle. "When you want to go down a steep grade all you do is put her in reverse," Becker said. Becker doesn't drive the Doble much any more except on long trips to attend a car club meet. Becker belongs to the Horse and Carriage Club, the Antique Auto Club of America and the Steamer Auto Club of America.

ON THESE cold winter mornings when it takes our cars a while to "warm up," Becker's Doble steamer is rarin' to go in one minute flat. And that's the amount of time

Muir Hospital Ground Breaking Set for February

Financing arrangements to build John Muir Memorial Hospital are complete, Dr. Fred Hanson, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, told auxiliary members at their second annual meeting Monday.

"Ground breaking will be on or before Feb. 19," he said. The hospital may be open a year from then.

Mrs. Harold C. Bates was elected to lead John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for its second year, at the auxiliary's annual luncheon meeting at Kellogg's in Walnut Creek.

She succeeds Mrs. Charles Hart, advisory chairman of the fledgling auxiliary until its first annual election, when Mrs. Hart was chosen its first president. Serving with Mrs. Bates will be Mrs. Howard Flanders, first vice president; Mrs. Joel Luhn, second vice president; Mrs. John R. Spatta, third vice president; Mrs. E. Reed Bells, recording secretary, and Mrs. Royal Doty, treasurer.

Some of the 1961 committee chairmen are Mrs. Charles Scudder, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Horace E. Firth, historian; Mrs. Bruce Lee, Thrift Shop; Mrs. Hugh Frost, remembrance; Mrs. P. W. Harris, Christmas cards; Mrs. Spatta, "Evening Under the Stars," and Mrs. Robert W. Hoyer, public relations.

The auxiliary voted to sponsor a new benefit, "Day at the Races," at Golden Gate Fields, March 25, with Mrs. Hart and Mrs. John Hutch as co-chairmen.

Installing officer and chairman of the luncheon was Mrs. Harmon Howard, women's activities chairman of the hospital board of trustees. Outgoing presidents of the auxiliary guilds introduced their successors. Increased membership growth and fund raising activity both have characterized John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary since its beginning.

It was chartered with 38 members, following a co-hostess luncheon June 24, 1959, at Diablo Country Club arranged by Mrs. Hart and Mrs. A. A. Nickel.

It now has a membership of 350 women supporting the hospital building project with a wide variety of activities, while looking forward also to in-service work as soon as the hospital opens.

A dozen auxiliary guilds have already formed. Named for places known and loved by John Muir, these are Ahwahnee, Garnet, Glacier, Kaweah, Mariposa, Sierra, Tenaya, Tioga, Tokopah, Tuolumne, Wawona, and Yosemite.

In November, 1959, the auxiliary pledged to raise within three years $15,000 for the hospital nursery and a year later already had raised $11,000, or 74 per cent of that goal.

Auxiliary projects in which all guilds participate are its Thrift Shop on Mount Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette, annual "Evening Under the Stars" cocktail fashion show and dinner dance, Christmas card sales and now "A Day at the Races."

Individual guild activities are a compilation of nationwide hospital in-service plan studies, hospital gift shop operation study, "Gay Nineties" melodrama and review with buffet supper, water show, skating, dancing, dinner and bridge benefit parties.

Toy, cheesecake, sporting goods rummage sales, book reviews, bridge lessons, decorating, floral arranging and gift wrapping demonstrations; Sunset and Allied Arts tour, "silent" and "Dutch" auctions, "tea cup" tea, remembrance card committee work and participation in the Walnut Festival are also included.

"This first year of activity on the part of the guilds has been highly successful and an outstanding example of women with a purpose," Mrs. Howard said.

O'Toole's Vacation At Corona

Let's Take a Good Look at Reading

New Reading Texts Will Be Introduced Tuesday

New reading texts adopted by the state for public school use beginning in the fall will be introduced at a series of meetings in Contra Costa County.

An explanation of the Ginn Basic Readers by a consultant for the publisher, Miss Muriel Bentson, will be given Tuesday at Murwood School, Walnut Creek.

The meeting at 4 p.m. is designed for teachers, principals, curriculum workers and others, according to Alice McMaster, consultant in elementary education.

A SECOND group of meetings will be held at the Martinez Schools Administration Office from 9 a.m. to noon, with consultants from the county office and from the book companies as speakers.

The programs will be as follows:

February 14 — Sheldon and Laidlaw readers and review of the Ginn reading program and uses of readers for enrichment.

March 8 — Prose and Poetry Series, Golden Rule Series and other supplementary readers.

MARCH 22 — Mae Carden reading program, discussed by John McCollum, director of elementary curriculum, Berkeley City Schools. While not a part of the state adopted reading program, the Mae Carden program is being included because of the interest it has aroused throughout the United States. There will also be group discussion.

Physical education for the physically handicapped — a relatively new field in Contra Costa County — will be the subject of a workshop for teachers, nurses and others Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at College Park High School.

Dr. Genevieve Dexter and Marion Sloss, both from the State Department of Education, and Dr. B. Otis Cobb, chief of school health, Contra Costa County Health Department, will speak.

Dr. Dexter, who is consultant cializing in gymnastics assisted with a clinic on the progressive development of the teaching of gymnastics, sponsored by the Contra Costa County Unit, California Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The clinic was held at College Park High School, last night.

Mrs. Gloria Peterson, graduate of East Stroudsburg State College, Pennsylvania, shared the speaker's platform with the high school's gymnastics coach, Howard Moorman. Mrs. Peterson has taught gymnastics in New York, Georgia, Oregon and California. The third of a series of courses designed to train teachers and librarians in librarianship will begin February 8 at Pleasant Hill High School.

FLOYD Erickson, librarian at Alameda State College, will instruct the class in basic reference materials and services, with a view to preparing its members for the task of teaching school children the use of reference tools.

Completion of the course will bring to nine the number of credits made available toward the total of 24 required for a library credential.

The intent is to achieve library credentialing of all personnel in school libraries in the near future, according to County Schools Library Consultant Walter Harris.

The class will meet Wednesdays from 7 to 9:45 p.m. in the high school library. Three units of credit will be granted for completion by San Jose State College.

Additional information on the course may be obtained from the county superintendent's office.

Group To Show Film

"What Is a Good Observer?" is the title of the film to be shown by the Contra Costa Chapter of the International Society for General Semantics today at 8 p.m. at Diablo Valley College.

Moderator for the evening's discussion will be Aron S. Gilmartin, minister of the Diablo Unitarian Church, and board of director for the Mental Health Association of Contra Costa, and Central Community Welfare Council, both United Crusade agencies.

Dr. Irving Lee, internationally known general semanticist and author, edited the film. A few of the books he wrote include "Language of Wisdom and Folly,"

"Why Do People Get in Verbal Jams," and "Language and Habits of Human Affairs."

The public and members are welcome to attend the free film showing. For additional information please call Mrs. Estelle Girande at YE 5-3332 or Mrs. Betty Keating at YE 5-3439.

Scout Paper Lot Is Always Open

Bundled scrap paper may be left at the lot of Boy Scout Troop 224 and Explorer Post 224, according to Barney Scott, Scoutmaster.

Pack a Lunch for Those Ski Trips

One day ski trips to the mountains have become a very popular winter sport, reports the touring department of the National Automobile Club. Many one-day skiers take along a picnic basket filled with the high energy food that skiing and cold weather require. The National Automobile Club also suggests you take along a few candy bars or small bags of nuts to eat on the long drive home. Keeping reserve energy for driving safely is a necessary part of planning your one-day ski trip.

Scout Man Will Speak To Pastors

E. C. Hogan, assistant director of Protestant Relationships of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, will visit Central Contra Costa County on Wednesday.

A special meeting has been called from 12 to 2 p.m. to enable the ministers of the area to meet Hogan and to learn how best the churches of the area and the Boy Scouts' leaders can work together.

The meeting has been scheduled as a luncheon meeting in order that the greatest number of those who are concerned with the scouting program in Protestant churches may be able to attend.

It will be held at 1595 Botelho Drive, Walnut Creek, according to the Reverend Philip J. Daunt, executive director of the Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County.

Optometrists Pick 'Man of the Year'

Dr. Meredith W. Morgan, dean of the school of optometry, University of California, Berkeley, is the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties "Optometrist of the Year."

The award was made at the annual meeting of officers' installation of the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties Optometric Society, according to its incoming president, Dr. Sigmund Sabin.

Named dean of the university's school of optometry in June, Dr. Morgan is president of the Richmond Board of Education, author of many professional articles, a local and regional officer of the YMCA and active in local, state and national optometric organizations.

DVC Offers Electronics Courses

Two new electronics classes are being offered in the spring semester part-time student program at Diablo Valley College, according to Charles Sapper, assistant dean of instruction.

Registration for all electronics classes will be held tomorrow on campus. Classes begin Feb. 6.

Electronics 210, a course in radio maintenance, will be open to anyone who has had the equivalent of one year of electronics training. It is designed for employees of radio-TV shops as well as to anyone who has responsibility for maintenance of commercial or industrial radio receiving and transmitting equipment.

The other seven remaining electronics classes include one section of Electronics 130 and two sections of Electronics 131. These classes meet two nights a week, and covers both the lecture and laboratory phases of electronics fundamentals.

The transistor series, Electronics 260-261, will be continued with one section of each. Intermediate Electronics 228 is presented for persons with the equivalent of one year of electronics training who wish to continue the study of basic circuitry before attempting more advanced courses.

One section of the second semester of the research and development series, Electronics 245, completes the list of electronics offerings.

St. Mary's Plans Dinner

Plans for the Saint Mary's College Associates' benefit dinner are in the final stages, according to Karl Weber, president of the group. The affair will be held Feb. 11 on the Moraga campus.

Tickets are $25 per couple. Reservations can be made by calling DRake 6-4411.

Las Lomas Tests Unbeaten Orinda Cagers Tonight

By ERWIN MATTSON

Play in the Foothill Basketball League was confined to practice this week as students went through a week of examinations. That all winds up at noon today and that means a full round of play on tap tonight.

The Miramonte Matadors are the team to catch and the only club that looks as if they have the possibility of doing it are the Las Lomas Knights and it's a long haul for the mas the yare two games down with one-third of the season gone.

LAS LOMAS gets their big chance and it could well be their last one for a comeback tonight as they meet Miramonte at Orinda.

FOOTHILL LEAGUE

	W	L	P.S.	P.A.
Miramonte	5	0	246	181
Las Lomas	3	2	274	220
Acalanes	3	2	191	198
Piedmont	3	2	232	247
Alhambra	1	4	231	278
San Ramon	0	5	231	176

This one is the big game of the night and it promises to be played before a packed gym.

A Miramonte win here would give them what amounts to a three-game bulge and a probable straight road to the title. A Las Lomas win on the other hand would keep them in contention and at the same time put a bit of pressure on the Matadors.

The Matadors have responded to pressure to date with an output that appears to spell CHAMPIONSHIP. Their play has improved consistently and effectively as testified by their undefeated record in league play to date.

CENTER Jack Gilbert and guard Bill Caldwell have been steady performers to date and the backbone of Coach Herb Graw's team.

The Mats have been effective offensively and their defense has been the circuit's best. It was highlighted last week as they held the Alhambra Bulldogs to 24 points.

The Las Lomas Knights were favorites when league play opened but have had problems as they dropped games to Miramonte and Piedmont.

THE KNIGHTS have had more trouble than anticipated in hitting the hoop but appear to have found their eye again as they ended Acalanes last Friday night scoring 64 points with a better than 70 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Bob Nichols is rated one of the best shots in the league and teamed with sharp shooting Rene Bremdol could mean plenty of trouble for the Mats.

Alhambra with a 2-2 record will be making a bid to move up in the standings as they play an afternoon game at Piedmont.

The Clan has been up and down in their performances to date with their high an upset 57-53 win over Las Lomas, and their low, a 50-30 to Acalanes. In Rick Prestwood they have the league's most consistent scorer. He has 101 points to date on 46 field goals plus nine charity tosses. An Alhambra win here would rate in the upset class.

In the circuit's only other game Acalanes plays at San Ramon and while the Dons rate the edge simply because San Ramon has yet to win, they are far from an odds-on favorite.

SAN RAMON has played far better ball than their 0-5 record indicates. The Dons go into the contest with three wins and two losses.

San Ramon has a top scorer in K. C. Evans, who as a matter of interest stands third in league standings with 83 points as opposed to the Dons' best in John Jones with 38.

The Danville five hasn't been so much in scoring as it has in holding the opposition down. Coach Larry De Ruskin has stressed the San Ramon defense all week and it could well pay off with a win as Acalanes has had problems particularly in the scoring column.

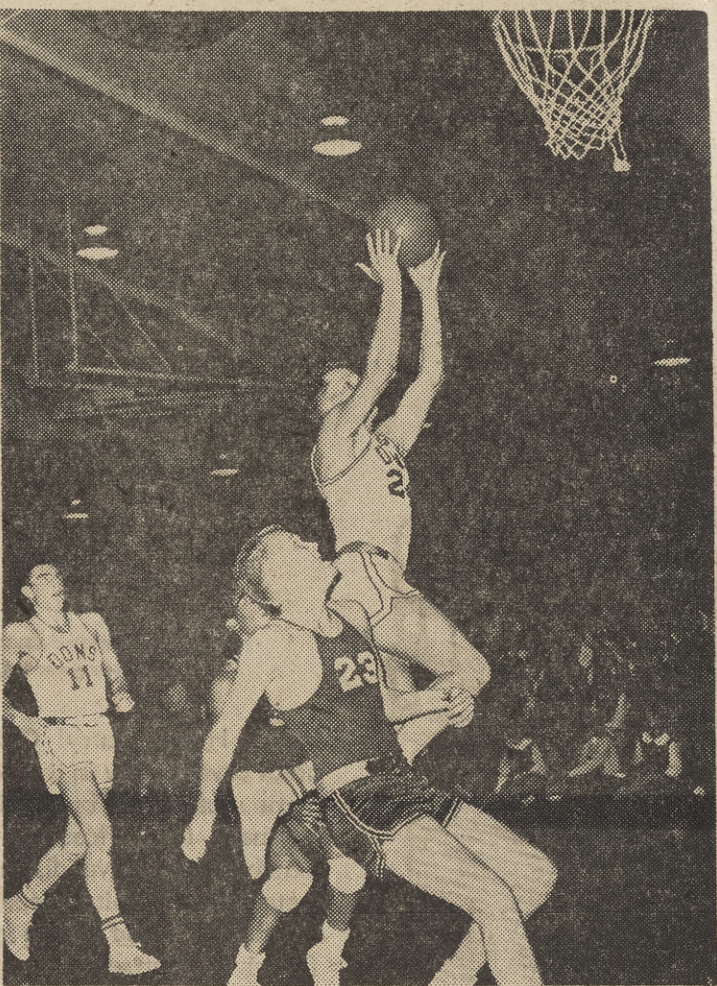

Bowling Tourney Starts Soon

The Diablo Bowling Association will present the Men's 15th Annual Championships early next month.

Single and doubles events will be held at Vogue Lanes in Pittsburg from February 10-26.

The team events will be held at Monument Bowl in Pleasant Hill February 10-19.

Entries for the tournament are being taken now until February 4. Entry forms are available at both bowling establishments.

DRIVING BETWEEN two Las Lomas defenders to score is Dennis Herrick of Acalanes. Jim Murphy (23) and Rick Scott (behind Murphy) are unable to stop the high-flying Herrick. Dave Stegman (11) follows up the play for the Dons. Las Lomas won the Foothill League battle last Friday, 64-42.

Fishermen Still Indoors: Dog Trials This Week-End

by Larry Jackson

The same old story making the round of the waterfronts—plenty of fish out the "takers" hibernating during the chill and fog. Can't blame them—fishing is for fun, but who can find fun in the cold spell we been having?

Dowreos running boats only when the passengers show up. Takes have been high on all boats that go out with Dowreio No. 5 taking six limits with six aboard on Thursday last.

Sunday showed up a bit on the warmer side. At White's Fishing Resort we enjoyed the company of a fine group over coffee and had a fine chit-chat. A happy group fished the pier with the fish all being flounder. With the new management in full operation here, the sport is getting a shot in the arm with all voting it a pleasure and happy.

TWO ITEMS of interest cropped up at McAvoy's Harbor on the 16th. Manuel Michado, Concord, registered a striper that has a fine chance of topping the Schenley Derby for the month. The fish weighed just a shade under 35 pounds and will undoubtedly be in the higher brackets if not the monthly winner. Manuel took the beauty in a cove off the eastern end of Roe Island.

Young Grant Anderson, 12, of San Leandro, fished off the shore line here and came in with what he called a baby salmon. It turned out to be an 18 inch steelhead, taken on an anchovy head of all things. Proud boy and a bapner day—a combination hard to beat.

BOAT OWNERS who braved the elements during the week, Hank Williams and Herb Brewer, both of Oakland, boated fish going to 8 pounds while Jim Fillmore of the Port Chicago area took two at 12-14 as well as 14 "cats" for the freezer.

That about winds up the fishing for the past week. Most of the "localities" we have talked with are marking time until the weather clears—then look out.

DOG TAILS . . . We are trekking off to Ft. Ord for the week-end—going to the dogs—for the California State Springer Spaniel Championship field trial. This is the third year for this worthy event with a field of 30 of the best in Springerdome field work.

Several local dogs, northern and bay area springers, will show their field wares in this prized event. If you dog fanciers have never seen these field animals in action, you have missed a highly interesting showing. Now is your chance.

HOST for this year is the Tamarin Spaniel Field Trial Club. Judging the contests, Herb Perrin, Santa Barbara, and Earl Pierson, Salinas, both personal friends of years and "top-flight" judges for any field trials.

Judging will start each day at 8 a.m. with dogs working singly before one judge, then passed over to the other, thus following the pattern of actual field conditions.

To get to the field grounds, enter Fort Ord at the Blanco crossing gate, then follow the field trial signs direct to the grounds. So far a day with the dogs, drive down to Ft. Ord and enjoy the thrill of field work and meet a grand gang of sports-minded, doggy folks. See you next week.

The Ski Line

Lack of Snow Hampers Skiers Again This Year

By Hee Hancock

Characteristic of recent years, we are again cussing the lack of a large snow pack.

Ski wise, we have been much worse off on previous occasions. At least this winter, we got off to an early start. Despite the long dry spell, the low temperatures have stretched the pack out as far as possible. Remember, that this time last year everyone was sweating about having enough snow for the Olympics.

SNOW was forthcoming then, and I hasten to remind you of little faith. It will be here again this year, I'm sure. I just can't see why it has to be such a big production each and every year though!

Snow conditions weren't the only factors in keeping the ski activity down over the past weekend. Final exams took their toll. Also, many devotees of the slopes defected to the green fairways of Pebble Beach for the Crosby Tourney.

Harold and Esther Dornis of Lafayette were able to get some skiing in at Squaw Valley over the past weekend. Another Squaw visitor was Diane Maguire of Walnut Creek.

Gordon and Mildred McNulty played hooky from the ski shop for a Reno-Lake Tahoe Holiday.

NEIL Rose, the ice skating fellow, sneaked up for a couple of days on the slopes at the Edelweiss.

For next week? Care to join in on Snow-Dance?

Kids-Learn To Bowl

Youth Bowling Week gets underway tomorrow morning at four area bowling establishments.

For local youngsters, eight to 18, it means free bowling instruction from expert bowlers and a chance to bowl in league competition at the conclusion of the instruction period.

In Walnut Creek, the program gets underway at 9 a.m., at the Concord Bowl and the Paddock Bowl in Pacheco at 10 a.m. and at the Rheem Bowl in Moraga at noon.

The Monument Bowl in Pleasant Hill will hold their youth clinic a week later than the other alleys because of league commitments.

ALL FOUR participating alleys plan to hold other instruction sessions during the week after school hours.

The youngsters will be separated into age groups for more specialized instruction.

More than 1000 youngsters are expected at local alleys.

The week of instruction is being sponsored by the East Bay Bowling Proprietors Association.

For the interested youngsters, leagues will be formed at the conclusion of the week, complete with prizes and trophies for the top teams and players.

The instruction is all free and there is also free use of bowling shoes and other facilities.

THE IDEA of youth week was originated by the bowling proprietors association to help youngsters become acquainted with America's favorite participant sport.

Mayor Frank Marshall of Walnut Creek and Concord's Mayor Bryan Shary have both proclaimed January 28 to February 10 as "Youth Bowling Week."

SHOWING BELINDA Barlow the proper way to hold a bowling ball is Tony Pietrafitta, one of the instructors taking part in "Youth Bowling Week" for this area. John Meade watches with interest as Belinda receives her instruction. Pietrafitta will be at one of the four bowling alleys which are holding free clinics for youngsters eight to 18 who want to learn how to bowl.

Miramonte Wins No. Five: Las Lomas Stays in Race

The Miramonte Matadors made it five straight Friday night as they showed the Alhambra Bulldogs why they are the league leaders by scoring an easy 41-24 win.

The Mats, playing at home, displayed an air-tight defense that stifled the Alhambra offense to the point where the starting five managed but 6 points.

Miramonte on the other hand had six players hit the scoring column with Center Jack Gilbert collecting 14 and Guard Bill Caldwell 12.

THE ORINDA five took a comfortable 15-6 first quarter lead, made it 24-9 at the half then scored 14 points to the visitors eight in the third quarter and then coasted in as reserves took over.

Tops in scoring for Alhambra was Al Lakeman with 8 points.

Miramonte Bees made it a clean sweep as they won 25-21.

The Las Lomas Knights seeking the comeback trail rapped the Acalanes Dons 64-42 last Friday night. The Knights shot with steady accuracy from the floor and chalked up a fifty twenty-two points in the final quarter to insure the win.

THE DONS kept in range most of the way trailing 17-11 at the quarter, 31-23 at the half, and kept even as both clubs scored 11 points in the third quarter.

The Knights really went to work in the final canto, however, as they made 7 of 8 floor shots while stopping the Dons with a meager eight points.

Bob Nichols topped the scoring for the Knights with 23 points

Don Wrestlers Win No. Two; Lead League

The Acalanes Don wrestlers defeated Miramonte last Friday afternoon 25-21 and went into the league lead with their second straight win.

In the other Foothill League meet, Las Lomas defeated San Ramon 25-19.

Standings in the Foothill Wrestling League to date find Acalanes first with a 2-0 mark, Miramonte at 1-1, Las Lomas 1-1 and San Ramon 0-2.

NO MEETS were held last Tuesday due to final examinations but the grapplers swing back into action today.

Action finds San Ramon at undefeated Acalanes and the Dons will be favorites as they defeated the Wolves in an earlier practice meet.

The Dons started slow this year, but have come up with a well balanced club that figures to do well in league competition.

The Acalanes team is one meet out in front of Miramonte but no cinch to wind up all alone in the top spot.

MIRAMONTE has enough capable wrestlers on hand to upset anyone and that includes the Dons.

Miramonte meets Las Lomas at Orinda and after the loss to Acalanes, figure to get back in the win column with a vengeance.

Las Lomas has some top performers in Mike Lee who goes at 154 or 165, Barry Burlingame at 133, and Bob Madsen 127.

Miramonte has what appears to be better all around strength and a good supply of experienced performers with Rick Cannon at 112, Victor Clark 120, Steve Abbott 127, Keith Thrall 133 and Mason Fries at 175.

Slow Start Ruins Rams

The Mt. Diablo Red Devils defeated the Pleasant Hill Rams last Friday 43-37 in a Contra Costa Basketball League game. The Rams are now 2-2 in league play.

The game saw the Red Devils finish strong after a slow scoring first quarter which ended with the Concord club out in front 7-3.

THE DEVILS hit for double figures in the remaining periods getting 13, 11 and 12 in that order while the Rams collected but 6 points in the third before coming close in the final stretch with a 20 point outburst.

Diablo's Tom Brown came through with 13 points and was the only player in double figures. Teammates Dave Bradley and Ken Hammer had seven apiece.

The Rams top point getters were Terry Hughes and Dick Dole with nine and Bob Jensen with seven.

Rams Place 2nd In Wrestling Meet

The Hayward Farmers won the Bay Area Invitational Wrestling Tournament held last Saturday night at the Hayward High School Gymnasium.

The Farmers, in posting the win, walked off with six of the individual championships and chalked up an even 100 points.

The Pleasant Hill Rams who won the event last year wound up as runner-up copping three individual championships and 78 points.

Lennis Cowell of Pleasant Hill at 122 pounds won a title in the meet for the third straight year while another repeat winner for the Rams was Dave Moore at 127.

Tom Foster took the 175 pound title as he went through the tournament without being scored on and pinned Hayward runner-up Jim Orear in the finals.

Other Ram point getters were Bob Scheid with a fourth at 98 pounds, Ron Ezidro fourth at 103, Dave Rockwell third at 135, Bob Ernst second at 138 and Jack Snook fourth at 154.

Miramonte wound up in eighth place with 28 points while Mt. Diablo was ninth with 27.

Diablo's point makers were Tom Jones who was third at 98, Marty Wherton third at 156, Paul Davis fourth at 191 and Mike Bennett fourth in the heavy-weights.

Miramonte rolled up their points as Victor Clarke took the third place medal at 120, Keith Thrall took second place at 135 and Mason Fries was third at 193.

Acalanes lone winner was Rick Butler who went undefeated to end up number one at 112.

Your Garden

Many New Bedding Plants Available for New Year

The introduction of a new plant is accompanied by far less hoopla than is the advent of a new car from Detroit. But we'd make a good guess that far more 1961 models will be sold out of nurseries than out of automobile showrooms across the country.

Do you doubt it? The annual sell-out of All-America roses alone should convince even the staunchest skeptic. And roses are but one of the garden favorites that annually produce a spate of eagerly awaited new forms.

LET'S LOOK for the minute at some of the new bedding plants which members of the California Association of Nurserymen will be offering in this new year. There is a bumper crop forthcoming to be sure.

If you appreciate alyssum for the easy-growing little bedder it is, you'll be more than happy with the new Rosie O'Day, an All-America selection for 1961. It is an unusual deep rose-pink in color and attractively dwarf in habit.

Coral Satin, another AA winner, leads a long list of new petunias for the new year. It is a rich, coral-rose and quite compact. If petunias are your dish, you'll have a feast on the new varieties. Another charmer is Frolic, a tall giant with huge ruffled blooms.

A NEW cockscomb named Fortest Fire will bring blazing beds of scarlet-orange to your garden; a dwarfish bachelor button named Polka Dot comes in several colors of bushy, multi-flowered plants; and an extra-dwarf balsam named (appropriately enough) Tom Thumb will prove a happy treat in mixed colors for all who grow it.

And though it's early to think of zinnias, we'd like to close our list with a new one named State Fair that will come your way this spring.

Night Class Registration Tomorrow

Registration for evening classes at Diablo Valley College will be held tomorrow, on campus, according to Charles Sapper, assistant dean in charge of the part-time program.

Continuing and returning students may register between 7 and 11 a.m., while new students will register from 12 to 3 p.m.

Biological science and chemistry will be offered in the new Science Building, and elementary astronomy will utilize the facilities of the new Planetarium.

The history of the Far East and history of the Americas will also be scheduled.

Courses in camp counseling, the Russian language and comparative religion will also be offered.

For further information regarding these classes, or any of the other 120 tuition free, college credit courses, call MULberry 5-1230.

Ranger Tells Audubon Group About Mountain

A meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society was held last night in room 201 Las Lomas High School.

Mrs. J. R. Reynolds, vice-president and program chairman, introduced Leroy Kerr of the Mt. Diablo State Ranger staff.

Facilities for recreation and a resume of the geology and fauna will be discussed, and slides shown.

On February 5 the Society will make its annual field trip to Terminus Island and the Delta region under the leadership of Bev Wilder, to see the hundreds of Sandhill cranes and other waterfowl.

Thrifty Classified Ads appear in five papers for one low price.

CAPWELL'S OPEN THURS., FRI., MON. NIGHTS

Workshop Planned for Area Teachers

Visiting and local foreign language specialists will lead a foreign language workshop for teachers of junior high school grades and upward, February 17 and 18, at Diablo Valley College.

Two sections will be conducted each day, enabling participants to attend both from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. Feb. 17 and from 9 a.m. to noon on Feb. 18.

Section 1, according to Dr. Frank Burke, director of educational services for Contra Costa County Schools, will consist of a large group meeting, on the goals of foreign language programs, and Section 2 of small groups which will concentrate on drill in foreign language skills, using tape recorders and earphones in the college language laboratory.

Curriculum Consultant Edna McIntyre, San Francisco City Schools, will lead Section 1 on instruction techniques, testing, speech skills and how to grade facility in pronunciation.

Consultants for Section 2 will be two Contra Costa teachers, Jose Coleman, Las Lomas High School, for Spanish, and Fred Hermann, Diablo Valley College, for German; and Ruth Craig, teacher at Santa Rosa and San Francisco State Colleges, for French.

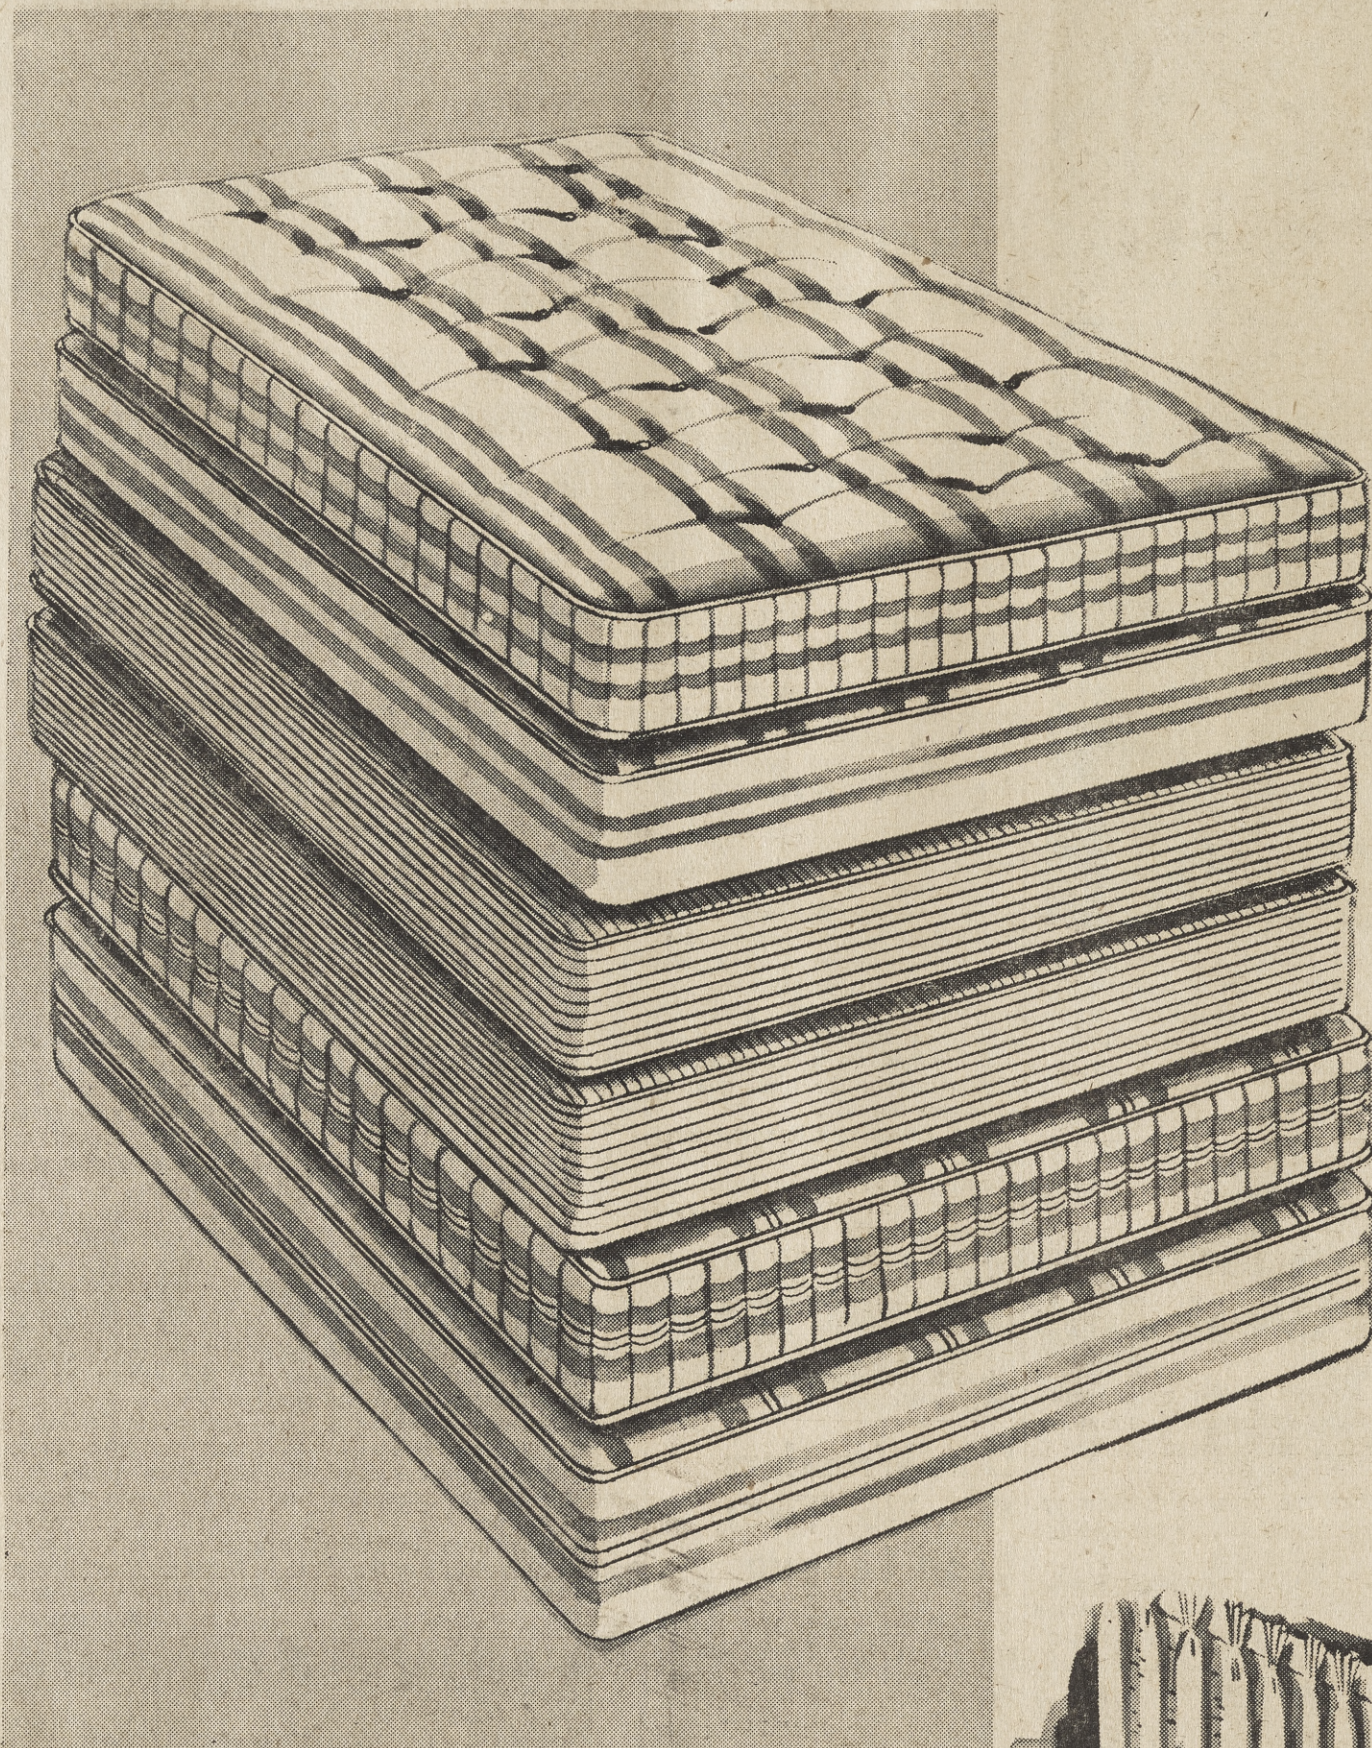

It was planned by a committee consisting of Jose Coleman, Walter Keller, Martinez Junior High School; Lily Lahti, coordinator of instructional services, Acalanes Union High School District, and Henry Melancon, head of the foreign language department, Pleasant Hill High School.

It also includes Norman Naas, director of secondary curriculum, Mt. Diablo Unified School District; Richard Tomlinson, Alhambra Union High School; Dr. Burke, Mrs. Gertha Brown, consultant in audio-visual education, and Mrs. Mary Louise Nissen, consultant in secondary education, Contra Costa County Schools.

PH Youth Pursues Unique Hobby in His Free Time

Wes Stetson, 17-year-old senior at Pleasant Hill High School is like students his age in most respects.

He's looking forward to graduation in June, then he hopes to go to Diablo Valley College for two years. From there he'd like to attend Humboldt State College.

His plans for the next four years are much like any young boy or girl his age.

Wes, however, pursues a hobby by which makes him quite a unique young man.

For two years now he has been trapping, stuffing and mounting animals in his free time and the teen-ager has built up quite an amazing collection.

Where did he learn to do all this?

A sport magazine he subscribed to carried the ad of a company in Omaha, Nebraska that offered a correspondence course in beginning taxidermy. Since Wes was interested in wildlife, he decided to send in for the free introductory pamphlet.

From this curiosity two years ago, Wes has become an accomplished professional-like taxidermist.

On weekends he sets his traps almost anywhere in the immediate area and snares varieties of hawks, owls, raccoons, foxes and rabbits. Many of these he lets go free. Some he takes home for pets. Others become part of his ever-growing collection of stuffed animals.

At the present he has eight fine works of craftsmanship in his home. Many others, which he has lost count of, are in the family cabin at Tahoe.

As if stuffed animals weren't enough to put up with, his family has to endure while he trains a Cooper's hawk for falconing. Then too, Wes has some live raccoons and foxes for pets.

This varied collection of wildlife was all found in this general area, most of it within five minutes driving time from the Stetson home at 2019 Treadway.

As Wes himself says, "you'd be surprised how much wildlife you can find around here if you really want to look for it."

Wes has certainly surprised many folks in this vicinity with his tales of hunting and trapping.

His mastery of taxidermy is a story in itself.

Mrs. W. E. Howe Files For School Board Post

Mrs. Gretchen Howe of 1 Hacienda Road, Orinda, filed Monday in Martinez her intent to run for one of the three positions to be filled on the Orinda Union School District board at an election April 18.

In a formal statement Mrs. Howe said: "I am running for the school board because I want to help all Orinda's children to have the best education possible."

"EVERY child in our schools today will be facing intense competition for college and later for a job, and a good education will be the greatest help we can give them."

"If my hard work on the school board can give our children any head start in this competition, I am happy to work toward this goal. I believe we should keep as much local control of schools as possible, and exercise this control intelligently."

"OUR AIM should be superior education with our present tax rate, for more money does not necessarily produce better education. While buildings are important and schools should be built for maximum wear and tear, I do not subscribe to the theory that finer physical facilities make better educated children."

"The only real guarantee of good education is good teachers who not only cover the curriculum thoroughly, but who prod the imagination, stimulate creativity, light a spark that stays lit through a lifetime."

"TO HELP develop a climate that continues to attract and keep such teachers is one of my goals. While anxious to broaden the horizons of our children, I feel that the quality of the courses we offer is more important than the quantity, and that we must not forget that the chief purpose of schools is to teach children to think."

Mrs. Howe, who holds a degree in psychology from Swarthmore College, has a son at Miramonte, another son at Pine Grove and a daughter at Sleepy Hollow. She did substitute teaching after her graduation from college and did

Developer Is Sued For Divorce

Robert C. Spott of Orinda, developer, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Dorothy. She has charged extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Spott has asked for custody of their four minor children, $1000 per month alimony and $600 monthly child support. The suit was filed in Contra Costa County Superior Court.

Mrs. Spott also asked for an equitable division of community property, valued at about $400,000, including the family home at 20 Brookbank Road, Orinda.

Other property includes several nursing homes and subdivisions, land in Orinda and Sleepy Hollow, a lot at Squaw Valley, interest in various corporations, including the Danville Development Company, Wilkie-Scott Company, A. J. Lindner Company and Hill Company.

The complaint also asks that Spott pay fees of $10,000 to her attorneys, Stark and Champlin.

The couple was married in 1940 at Montecito (Santa Barbara County). Both are graduates of the University of California.

James H. Gibbs Appointed West Point Alternate

James Hamilton Gibbs of 134 Sleepy Hollow Lane was this week appointed as third alternate to one of two vacancies existing for the California Sixth District of the Military Academy at West Point.

Congressman John F. Baldwin, representing Solano and Contra Costa Counties, made the appointments of the principals and alternates from the sixth district. Appointments were made upon the basis of examinations given by the Civil Service Commission in the California Sixth District.

The appointments are subject to the appointees taking a final entrance examination for the academy in March. Entrance to the academy will be on July 1.

Cancer Victims Can Get Supplies and Equipment

Families of cancer patients and free supplies of dressings, announced details. Mrs. O'Neil said that the society assists in locating needed items through its year-round information and referral services, which often uncover sources of help which the patient or his family do not realize are available to him. WITH THE authorization of the attending physician, the society lends hospital beds and other specialized equipment for the home care of cancer patients if these are prepared by the Danville chapter of the Order of the Cancer dressings — frequently very expensive among the requirements of cancer patients — are distributed free by the society throughout the county as needed. These are prepared by the Danville chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

"The American Cancer Society's program of service to cancer patients is not as well known to the public as the society's programs of research and public and professional cancer education," Mrs. O'Neil said. "But it is one of the most important functions of our branch."

EXPERIMENTAL Donald L. Rheem School, sometimes called the "Fallout" school, is unique in its beauty, economy and serviceability. Kodachrome wall murals give a feeling of space to the classrooms which have no outside windows.

D. L. Rheem School Has Economy, Safety, Beauty

A preview of the new look in school design, the Donald L. Rheem School in Moraga, is typical of the "Fallout School," with its multi-purpose construction, protective features and usefulness as a community center.

Designed by Jack Buchter & Associates, who worked closely with the Moraga School Board and the Office of Civilian Defense, the school building is noted for its beauty and usefulness.

NO WINDOWS at this school look directly outside; however, teachers and pupils do not feel "shut-in" for a large Kodachrome mural on the normal window wall gives each classroom a view of mountains or seacoast.

Steel baffles keep out sun glare and outside distractions and every classroom is soundproofed and private. The sturdy walls are steel reinforced concrete six inches thick, both interior and exterior walls.

No shadows or contrasts distract the eye with the rooms closed off to outside light. Young eyes poring over school books benefit from uniform illumination from translucent ceiling lighting. Unit ventilators filter the air, providing a continuous flow of purified air, plus comfortable heating during the cool months.

THESE SAME unit ventilators would screen out radio active dust. The thick, fire-resistant walls, absence of direct outside windows, sturdy single-floor construction, would offer resistance to radioactivity and thermal radiation.

Large enough to comfortably hold some of the families in Moraga for as much as two weeks, the length of time fallout dust waves remain dangerous, the school is a radical departure from the "dangerous house of glass."

When complete, the Rheem School will be a complete community center adapted to meet the needs of all the people. Be it a scoutmeeting, a dance, a polling place, the large and spacious rooms will meet the requirements.

AN AUDITORIUM, basketball court, playground area (indoors and outdoors), rooms for art and science exhibits, a music room, will add up to make this experimental fallout school a veritable paradise for Moraga families.

Jack Buchter, AIA and designer of the fallout shelter school, said, "The school was planned to serve the needs of today and any eventuality in the future. It turned out to be an economical, well-liked, practical community project and a model school. This is a major departure from the traditional to the futuristic."

WALNUT CREEK bypass will have a leafy look, eventually, much like this view of the Bayshore freeway, after the big landscaping job is finished. The bids were opened Wednesday in Sacramento. The photo was provided by the State Department of Public Works, on request of The Sun.

W.C. Bypass Landscaping Project Bids Opened

Bids were opened recently in Sacramento for the estimated $350,000 Walnut Creek Bypass Interchange landscaping project.

Low bidder was A. S. Brown Company of Van Nuys with a bid of $198,556.30. A total of seven bids were submitted, of which only one came from a firm in Contra Costa County.

Gordon H. Ball Incorporated, in a joint bid with Justice Company, both of Danville, submitted a bid of $302,437. The State Division of Highways office announced the low bid of A. S. Brown Company would undoubtedly be accepted within a week or two.

Work on the project, largest single landscaping effort in Northern California, will probably begin in February, depending on the weather. Approximately 7600 trees, 19,000 shrubs and 68,000 periwinkle plants for ground cover will be planted.

The area involves the Pleasant Hill interchange on the west side of Walden on the northerly extremity and Crest Avenue on the south. Prior to planting, the ground must be cleared of weeds and grass.

Iceicles Thaw and Bikinis Blossom! Hail February

By YVONNE MAUZEY
DR 6-4083

February is nigh the month of the Presidents birthdays and Valentines Day. Great people are born in February. February is a month for looking forward to better things.

The Spring thaw and green things starting to grow again after the winter cold and the dripping eaves. I saw an icicle hanging from the branches of the evergreen across the street, at noon, the other day.

THEY WERE just starting to thaw and drip in the pale winter light of the sun's dim disc. During the couple of hours of the twilight zone between the morning and evening fogs.

Spring clothes and flowered bikinis are blossoming in the store windows as the winter woollens are thrown onto the sale tables. Seed catalogues and summer theme covers, blooming on the magazine racks.

Do you have your bulbs and new bare roots planted by now? I am looking for the space to put the extra plants I just couldn't resist buying and was sure I would have a place for.

SATURDAY turned out to be a pretty day for the Troop 23 Girl Scouts' cook out at Twin Canyon, though a little cool. There were nine Girl Scouts who made the trip with their leaders, Ruth Salet and Jerry Tarpley. They were separated into three groups of three cooking at three separate fires and pooling their joint results for one fine meal of meat ball stew, baked apples in foil, hot chocolate and corn bread cooked in a reflector oven made by Nikki Salet and Melanie Boswell. This day in the out-of-doors is towards the troop outdoors cooking or adventure badge.

CUB SCOUT Den 3 has been turned over to Betty Terrall by the last den mother, Jane Preiss. Den 3 was scheduled to go bowling Monday after school with their new den mother.

Beth Klatt is the new den mother of den 7. The den has been turned over to Beth by Mary Louise Koeninger, the past den mother.

The pack meeting for the Cubs will be held the third Tuesday of February. They are celebrating with the Blue and Gold dinner when awards will be presented to eligible Cubs. This pack meeting is not a family affair. It is for the Cubs and their parents only.

THE JUNIOR Horsemen had a skating party last Friday at the Iceland in Berkeley. The group had a good time even with the spills and chills on the ice.

Horse show date set for May 21 (which will be the third Sunday in May). This is the big show held in Bolger Canyon. Be sure to reserve this date if you are interested in horsemanship as I am sure the competition will be keen.

The gymkhana or rodeo type show will be held in August. The date hasn't been set as yet. The committee members are meeting February 9 to set the date and time for the show and do more planning for the May show.

MORAGA PARENTS Club, your President Marie Wright and Principal Charles Toll hope to have a good turn out at the February 1 meeting as they will have a speaker demonstrating the new language, electronic mechanism or study center. A talk and demonstration will be presented. During the coffee break parents will be invited to test or play with the equipment, which includes earphones, a recorder and play back. The voice may be recorded, then played back, helping in speech or language.

With this instrument half of the class may study language with the earphones and recording device while the other half of the class is studying some other subject. In a subject where there is much repetition on the teacher's part, as a language, her voice may give out, but the recorder will repeat and repeat.

LENORE MOHRMANN, education committee, informs me the curriculum study questionnaire is being made up and would like any of you who have questions they would like put on the questionnaire to contact Jean Shield, Don Faulkner, Bob Amer or Lenore.

The essay contest chairmanship has been occupied by Jane Reif. The contest should be getting under way soon.

Carr VanderBirch is chairman of the social dancing committee. She will be taking signups from the 6, 7 and 8th grades for dancing to be taught starting next month, through spring, by the Cliffords of Orinda. This dancing class was suggested in the fall semester for 7th and 8th grades only. There weren't enough signups so it fell through.

Kit McIver informed the board at their last meeting they were selling their home and moving to Oakland or back to Southern California. The fogs and cold are too much for her. We will be sorry to lose her. This poses a new problem, since Kit is vice president. Usually the V.P. becomes president the following year. If Kit moves we will need to elect a new president of the Parents Club this spring along with the other officers.

DON'T FORGET the school bond election February 14 (Valentines Day). Send the school your valentine by voting. This bond election takes a two-thirds vote to pass. Jo Bates would like the names of interested persons to help on the bond election, call her if interested, DR 6-5086.

I am sorry last week to have omitted the name of the Bisiars new baby. They have named him Gregory.

Brownie Troop 34 will attend the Indian Museum in Berkeley this Saturday. The site is marked by a totem pole in front of the museum. The troop is studying Indians. This trip will add more to their knowledge of American Indians.

LAST WEEK the troop efforts were toward homemaking (the care and bathing of a baby). Johnnie Wright was given his daily bath while 13 Brownies looked on. This is a picture mama should have taken for Johnnie's scrap book. Then when he is 17 or so she can bring out the picture of Johnny being bathed by 13 girls. This would be better than the bare, bear skin rug photos.

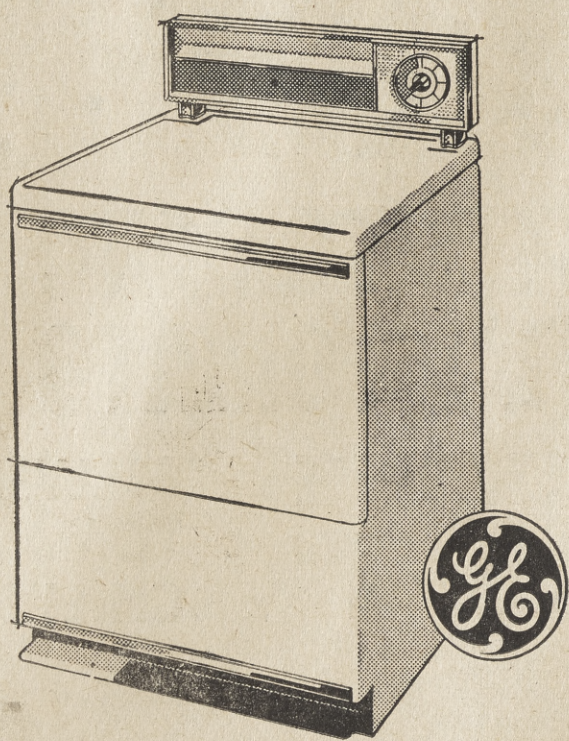

THE QUAIL unit has set March 3 as the date for their annual fashion show-luncheon. The show will be held in the Straw Monkey Room of the Claremont Hotel. Fashions will be supplied by Wallace and Wallace in Berkeley.

The Rockwells and Bradleys of Rheem held a dinner party for 16 January 13. The party was held at the Rockwell home at 253 Rheem Boulevard. Cornish hens stuffed with wild rice and cherry sauce were tops on the menu.

I head the Reigors and the Nelsons are having a little trouble getting used to our climate again. They didn't know what they were missing until they took a trip to Hawaii. They left the day after Christmas and took a jet to Hawaii and spent eight days in the beautiful warm sunshine. Swimming in water temperature 76°. Then came back home to the cold and the fog.

LOIS NELSON, ways and means of the Pandora Unit, informs me they are taking part in the Economy Corner at 5132 Shattuck Avenue in Oakland. Economy Corners carries used articles of clothing and miscellaneous objects. They are open Wednesday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The profits go to Pandora and six other Bay Area chapters. They are part of the Auxiliary of Childrens Home Society of California, a privately supported adoption agency.

CCJC District Acquires $10 Million in Assets; More Students

In the 12 years since its organization, the Contra Costa Junior College District has acquired assets of $10,000,000 without incurring a bonded debt and now has a student body larger than Stanford University's.

THE DISTRICT'S pay-as-you-go plan has enabled it to develop two campuses at Diablo Valley College and Contra Costa College at an average cost of $16.25 per square foot against a cost of $32 in some other districts, directors of the Contra Costa County Development Association were told at a dinner meeting at DVC.

Nearly 100 persons, including association directors and their wives, attended the meeting Tuesday night and toured the new planetarium and science building.

O. J. Wohlgemuth, president of the College district board and Drummond J. McCunn, superintendent, told of the district's history and building program, which is being financed out of the 41 cent tax rate and which will be completed in about four years.

CALIFORNIA NOW has 65 junior colleges and ours is one of the few districts without a bonded indebtedness," Wohlgemuth said. Wohlgemuth was chairman of the citizens committee which organized the district in December, 1948 and has served on the board of trustees since that time.

McCunn, who distributed graphs showing the district's expenditures and sources of revenue and a list of courses offered at the two campuses, termed the colleges' part time program for adults as "the most inspiring educational laboratory in America."

IT INCLUDES hundreds who were denied earlier educational opportunities and who are now attending night classes to improve themselves, he explained.

He said a great deal of savings had been accomplished by the board through the re-use of architectural plans. In one case, a building which cost $189,000 five years ago was duplicated at a cost of $169,000 through re-use of plans, he added.

C. P. Tanner, development association president, presided and introduced W. J. Kretzmer, member of the college board, Supervisor Mel Nielsen and College Directors Karl Drexler and George Paul.

IN A BRIEF business meeting, the association elected former Supervisor W. G. Buchanan, L. D. Hall of Standard Oil and C. H. Plomteaux of Shell Chemical Company, as directors to fill vacancies created by the death of Harold W. Sanders and the resignations of Frank Watson and W. R. Faxton.

Tanner announced that plans for a Feb. 28 "Salute to Industry Dinner" at Crockett have been cancelled.

The dinner meeting was preceded by a social hour at the nearby Contra Costa Golf Club.

Teachers' Clothing Class Set for Feb.

A clothing expert with 15 years of experience in the industry and nearly as many as a teacher will instruct Contra Costa County homemaking teachers in the trade methods of clothing construction, beginning February 7 at Las Lomas High School.

Industrial Construction Drops Sharply in County

Contra Costa has been replaced by San Mateo as third ranker among Bay Area Counties in respect to industrial construction, according to the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Inc.

During 1960, Contra Costa's industrial permit total was $2,773,169, but the 1959 total was $5,280,608. This shows a drop of more than $2 millions.

On the other hand, San Mateo County formerly trailed Contra Costa with $5,235,850 in industrial construction permits, but it jumped to $7,719,744 last year.

Far ahead was Santa Clara County with $19,526,334, last year, and Alameda County was second with $10,315,987.

Contra Costa was third in the Bay Area in store construction permits, with a total of $4,347,453, placing again behind Santa Clara County and Alameda County.

San Mateo County is fifth in this category.

Contra Costa was fourth in office construction permits, with a total of $929,287.

Alameda County was first and Santa Clara second.

Beer Drinking Brings Fine, Year Probation

Ten college students were each fined $15.75 for possession of beer and were placed on one year's probation by Walnut Creek Municipal Court Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn.

Eight were from Berkeley, one from Oakland and one from Orinda. The beer drinking allegedly took place around a campfire behind the paved section of Bolinger Canyon Road, near Lafayette.

Many of the youths fled when approached by sheriff's deputies, they said. As many as 30 boys were present before their discovery.

Sheriff John Snyder said that several youths called the sheriff's office before the court hearing, asking for a return of the confiscated beer keg.

The Orinda student was Philip Bartlett of 243 Glorietta Boulevard.

Baldwin's Bill Would Give Aid

Congressman John F. Baldwin has introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives a bill to modify the Social Security Act so that payments of aid to needy children could be made without forcing one parent to leave the home.

Baldwin said the present law provides that aid to dependent children can be paid only when a needy child under the age of 18 has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of death, continued absence from the home, or physical or mental incapacity of a parent.

He stated that this provision meant that aid to dependent children could not be paid where both parents remain in the home, even though both parents may be unemployed and in serious need of assistance for their children.

He stated that the present law has forced many families to separate in order that the children might qualify for Aid to Needy Children grants.

Baldwin said District Attorney John A. Nejedly brought this matter to his attention. He added his amendment would add a provision in the law so that a family could qualify for "Aid to Dependent Children" payments if the parents were financially unable to support the children.

Baldwin indicated the Child Welfare League of America, Inc., New York, had already indicated it would give full support to an amendment of this type.

Art Society Plans Annual Pageant

Next spring the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society will produce another annual pageant of arts in Walnut Creek, featuring the work of professional and amateur artists from all over Northern California.

The exhibit will feature such varied fields as painting, sculpture, music, the dance, drama, literature, ceramics, pottery, jewelry making, weaving and photography.

Between pageants the society operates an art gallery in Walnut Creek and works to promote and assist all the arts, and to distribute information about art activities.

After a year's work as an unincorporated non-profit civic organization James B. Wells, Society president, has issued the following report:

A membership of 200 individuals, clubs or families and a women's alliance of 25 members has been recorded.

The society issued a treasury report of $600.

It has established an Art Center in, first, the location on Main Street, then in the Quonset Hut in the City Park, Walnut Creek, from where the fifth annual Pageant of Arts was produced, including work from many organizations of all the arts.

It has established the Diablo area's only art gallery with rental and artist mart service.

From its rental gallery of 80 painters the society has rented over 150 paintings or pieces of sculpture to its patrons.

In the sales room, other than paintings, the society has on display pottery, jewelry, weaving, mosaics and prints from 20 other contributors.

The gallery is staffed by a regular membership of 40 people, with several alternates.

The society has established the first Annual Art in Religion exhibit.

It has established the first Annual Poetry Exhibit, to be produced in February.

The society is a civic group rather than a special interest group.

The society has furnished speakers, demonstrations and exhibits for the Walnut Creek City Library, schools, groups and organizations.

Urban Renewal Group Studies County Housing

Under the Chairmanship of Hugh Corum of Danville, the Contra Costa County Citizens Committee for the Workable Program is making a study of housing conditions in the unincorporated areas of the county.

Members of the committee were appointed, one from each supervisorial district, and approved by the Board of Supervisors on July 5, 1960.

The committee has met several times to date. Enthusiasm for the program was born when a field trip was made Saturday to obtain first-hand knowledge of the need for a conservation and rehabilitation program for the county.

With a properly administrated and publicly accepted Urban Renewal Program, many families that qualify and are within the 20 per cent group comprised of the upper portion of the low income and the lower portion of the medium income group may take advantage of certain Federal funds. These funds have been set aside for conservation, rehabilitation and construction of new residential and apartment structures.

Youth Concerts To Offer SF Orchestra

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will be presented as the first in a series of programs being offered by the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Los Lomas High School.

Guest soloist with the Symphony will be the Justin Blasdale, pianist. Blasdale will play Mendelssohn's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 1 in G minor—First Movement.

Dr. Otey is the newly appointed conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Youth Concerts for this year, succeeding Dr. Jan Popper.

Dr. Otey, composer and conductor, is a Professor of Music at San Francisco State College.

Scout Council Notes Growth, Boys' Interest

Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council ended the year with a net growth of 221 registered over the previous year, and a gain of 1596 more boys served during the year than in 1959, according to E. Morton Schaffran, vice president and charter review committee chairman.

"A tremendous enrollment during the month of December, with a net gain of more than 1200 in that month alone, was evidence of an increased desire for boys to become Cubs, Scouts, or Explorers," Schaffran explained.

The December net total of 15,428 boys currently active in Berkeley, Albany and Contra Costa County includes 8402 Cub Scouts, 5800 Boy Scouts and 1226 Explorers.

There were 22,341 boys who belonged to the movement during 1960, and a total of 8823 adults filling volunteers' positions as leaders, committeemen or commissioners.

This latter total includes 1418 den mothers in Cub packs.

In the last four months of the year 24 new units were organized by the new units committee members, headed by Frank Hodges,

Hoopers Named County Guide Dog Trainers

At the January meeting of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club members learned that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hooper have been appointed official trainers for Guide Dogs for the Blind for Contra Costa County.

The Hoopers have been members of Mt. Diablo for several years, and Howard is the Trainer for the Beginner's training classes held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Included in the classes sponsored by the club are two 4-H Club members together with their German Shepherd guide dog puppies.

These 4-H Clubbers train their puppies in obedience work as a preliminary step before official guide dog training takes place at the Guide Dog School in San Rafael. The Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club offers these 4-H Club Members this training free of charge as a community service.

In this connection Clarence Phaffenberger from Guide Dogs has been invited to come to the March 11 pot-luck supper meeting at the Walnut Creek Sportsmen Club to explain the Guide Dog training program and present a Guide Dog film to club members.
